

Learn More About Max Ribner

What are the common threads that bridge jazz, soul, and classical music with spiritual connection and community service?

This is the question that drives international touring artist Max Ribner. The sound that answers is rich, reverent, and intimate, connecting us through the lineage of music, to the stories of our ancestors.

In the past, Max's unique and fusion-inspired approach to Flugelhorn and trumpet has led him to perform with artists such as Esperanza Spalding, Nahko And Medicine For The People, Trevor Hall, The Polish Ambassador, Liv Warfield and many more.

The result of years of collaboration with such a broad musical community is powerfully illustrated on Max's debut solo album, "1st Language." The 11-song debut album brings 50+ artists together in a cross-continental collaboration for the ages.

Featured artists include: Bobby Sparks II (Roy Hargrove, Snarky Puppy), Mark Lettieri (Snarky Puppy), Saeeda Wright (Prince), and Sharay Reed (Chaka Kahn), to name a few. In addition, the album was mixed by Grammy award winning mix engineer, Ben Kane (D'Angelo PJ Morton and Emily King). Completed in late 2020, "1st Language" is a sonic calling together of our collective humanity.

In 2024, Max has been bringing his collaborative Resilient Beings project to festivals and communities across the PNW and Canada ~ including Peace Village Festival in Ashland and Conscious Growth Convergence near Eugene ~ while maintaining deep connection to musical family in Appalachia and supporting the region's recovery from Hurricane Helene.
